AT ODDS OF 10 TO 1. Makes a New Record for Five Purloage Brighton Beach—Inshot, Lombre and Barbette Rush Home in Front at Big Prices Watercure the Only Winning Pavorite. There have been many days when the talent received a series of stunning bumps, but the pumps handed out at the Brighton Beach acetrack yesterday afternoon beat the previous ones all hollow. Though the oard first glance looked easy to the regulars, t was one of the hardest to solve that has been spread before the devoted public since the ceeting began. Long Shots held high carniin Shot, 6 to 1; Sombrero, 10 to 1; Lombre, 15 to 1, and Barbetto, 20 to 1, being successful in such a manner that the crowd stood aghast. Only one favorite, Wateroure, at to 5, and Margraviate, 13 to 5, a second oice, captured the other two races. The Atlantic Seiling Stakes for two-year-olds at five furlongs was not only an upset of large proportions, but it was also produc-tive of a new track record for the distance. tive of a new track record for the distance. Alibert, with Shaw up, was a strong favorite at 2 to 1. Oom Paul, too, was backed on at threes. Then a hot tip on Van Nees beat his price down from 6 to 1 to 8 to 2. Highlander nd Lady Holyrood were also backed liberally t fives. Sombrero went back in the betting to 10 to 1, in spite of his good race with Cameron on Saturday last. Once under way and Alibert set a cracking pace. Van Ness and Sombrero were quick to follow and they stayed within reach until the turn was though he had O'Connor to steady him, ran out wide and lost so much ground that his case was hopeless. Sombrero, beautifully ridden by little Wilkerson, was, meanwhile, sutting down Alibert's advantage inch by inch, when suddenly the latter stopped as if he had broken a heartstring. Oom Paul moved up swittly then, and as Wilkerson had a free run for the wire with Sombrero, the race was between them. Wilkerson rode a fine finish and Sombrero won by a length, with Oom Paul in the place, three lengths before Lady Holyrood. The time, 0:59 2-5, was three-fiths of a second faster than the record for the track of 1:00, made by Sengster last July. The upsetting and undervaining of the public began in the first race at one mile and a sixteenth. The layers installed Blueway favorite at 2 to 1, simply because Shaw had the mount, and they kept all the money invested, as Biucaway ran as if he had some physical disability. In Shot, allowed to recede from fives to sixes, took the lead flying and never was in danger of being caught. She won in a gallop, by eight lengths. Eloim, 2 to 1, was second, 3 lengths better than Armor, hen suddenly the latter stopped as if at all dismayed, though naturally cointed, the crowd rushed back into mg to nail the second race, a dash of and one-half furiongs for maiden two-sids. Faranlass, with Shaw up, was ek and he went to the post a 6 to 5 to. Dewey also was the cause for plunges until his closing price was 5. Clarence H. Mackay's Choate was agreete at fours. Octoroon, 15 to 1. h by Burns, and Faranless raced neck to the top of the stretch. Then an came through with Lombre, 15 add in a sharp drive, beat the favorite by C. Shaw, of course, did not go to the but Cochran's "bat" was in evidence the do the trick. ercure was figured such a sure thing third race at one mile and a quarter to a was the best price to be secured.

watercure was figured such a sure thing in the third race at one mile and a quarter that it to a was the best price to be secured in the crowded ring. The real betting on the race lay between King Bramble and Maid of Harlem for the place, at 3 to 5 and even money, respectively. It was an exercise gallop, so to speak, for the favorite, but at that Cochran greed him along at quite a lively gait, as King Bramble was full of ginger. Watercure won by three lengths in the fast time of 2:05 1-5. King Bramble being twenty-five lengths before Maid of Harlem. In the fifth race tunie Thompson was such a warm favorite hat her price tumbled from threes to twos, but Margraviate was solidly played at 13 to 5. Chere was also a good play on Pleasant Sail. Gargraviate, piloted by Landry, showed in ront with great speed at the first furlong pole and had two lengths over Brandy Smash, of to 1, at the quarter. They staved together fiter that all the way, Margraviate winning in a drive by half a length, Brandy Smash, of to 5 favorite. Seminole was at 7 to 5, while Seminole was cut to even money, Sarbetto went begging as far as the public but in a few minutes Big Gun had receded to be 5, while Seminole was cut to even money. Barbetto went begging as far as the public bettors were concerned at 20 to 1.To start with, Big Gun ran as if he had just had a good dinner and was not feeling as brisk as usual. McCue subjected him to the "bat" in the last furlone, but the gelding staggered under punishment and made no spurt. Barbetto meanwhile had been leading quite assily to the turn, where Seminole, vigorously ridden by O'Connor, collared the Falsetto elly and took the lead. Down to the wire it was a case of which jockey could ride the nucler and in this respect McGinn, with left-handed blows on Barbetto's flanks, did the trick, even though it was only by the shortest of heads. CHICAGO, July 23.—Twelve indictments were voted by the Grand Jury this evening against Ed. Austin, George Rose, H. Waterman, Charles Pock, I. Coleman, Marsh Lodon, John Fay, George Cook, Samuel Wagoner, Fred Peysch, D. "Kid" Waller and Marcus Cortwright, on a charge of bookmaking. The charges were made by Edwin Crossau, 2432 Wentworth avenue. He testified before the Grand Jury that he had lost between 3600 and 3700 at the Washington Park track, where the twelve men are alleged to have operated books.

Boat Clubs Forced Out of "Scallers' Row. The reluctant exodus of the boat clubs from "Scullers' Row" has begun. After the Dock Department dredges ripped off part of the roof of the Metropolitan R. C. house in the operations for a new pier near the Third avenue bridge, Harlem River, the officers of the clubs that were ordered to vacate their quarters on July 1 thought it about time to get under way. The Boit about time to get under way. The Bohemians were soared away first. Their boathouse was taken up the river on Monday and was being put on splies yesterday. The Harlem R. C. house was towed away yesterday and deposited by the side of the Nasaud B. C. near the elevated railroad bridge. The Metropolitans will have their shattered house taken away to-day and will locate next to the Harlems.

The Crescents and Wyanokes refuse to obey the mandate of the Dock Department. They say their houses are on the property of the New York Central Railroad and that they are backed up by the railroad company in their decision not to move. Those who have charge of the building of the new pier have been taking measurements which brought them danserously near to the Crescent house, and the carsmen that still remain in the time-honored vicinity are expecting to see the Crescent's house towed unceremoniously out into the river at any time.

IN THE BASEBALL WORLD. ELYNS RAYS LITTLE TROUBLE BRATING TREIS NEW YORK RIVALS. Mathewson Kneeked Out of the Bez-Boat Bestons, Pitteburgs Defeat Rods and Chicages Trounce St. Louis -Forfett in the American Loague -Other Games -Notes.

The Pittsburgs went up to the .600 mark in the National League yesterday by winning from the Cincinnatis. They enlarged the gap between them and the second team. St. Louis, the latter being beaten by the re-juvenated Chicagos. The New Yorks were outplayed throughout by the Brooklyns and the Philadelphias beat the Bostons. Also-gether the distance between the first and second divisions was increased. There was a forfeit in the American League. The score was 4 to 4 in favor of Cleveland in the ninth inning, when the Washingtons refused to abide by Umpire Connolly's decision and the game went to Cleveland, 9 to 0. Chicago beat hiladelphia and Boston beat Milwaukee. The National League results and standing follow:

Brooklyn, 8; New York, 3. Philadelphia, 2; Beston, 1. Pittsburg, 0; Cincina Chicago, o; St. Louis. THE RECORD.

PROORT YN, S; NEW YORE, S.

After losing five straight games in Chicago the New Yorks came home yesterday and lengthened their slumping streak in a game with the Brooklyns at the Polo Grounds. When these two teams met earlier in the season the New Yorks had all the dash and fire and ran away from their neighbors. Yesterday most of the snap and dash attached to the game was provided by the champions. They took a big lead early and held it easily to the finish, incidentally, while doing it, batting Mathewson out of the box. Time batting Mathewson out of the box. Time was and not so long ago when anybody into whose mind there entered the stray notion of Mathewson being batted out of the box would have told it only in whispers, and berch is another forceful illustration of the uncertainty of baseball. A week or so ago Mathewson let a team of heavy hitters down without a litt and now he is batted out of the box in the third inning.

"I am tempted to paraphrase Shakespeare," mused a spectator, as Mathewson sought the seclusion of the bench after the tribulations of the diamond. "Upon what strange mesat hath this our Christy fed that he is bumped so hard."

Mathewson, however, took his medicine.

the secusion of the bench siter the tribulations of the diamond. "Upon what strange meat hath this our Christy fed that he is bumped so bard."

Mathewson, however, took his medicine as a man, bearing himself the same as when pitching winning games, and the onlookers showed that they remembered his good work by applauding him generously as he quit the box. Denger pitched pretty well the remainder of the game. The New Yorks could not hit with any effect. Their fielding was good enough, but at the bat they appeared to be a much subdued lot. Twice they started in to hit the ball with some consecutiveness, and each time the promised rally flashed in the pan. In fielding, batting and base running the playing of the Brooklyns was scientife and speady.

The champions get down to business in the second inning. Mathewson sent four bails up to Dahlen, every one too high, and Dahlen strolled to first. From there to the plate was an easy journey for him when McCreery clipped a line three-bagger to right centre. A low, wind pitch let McCreery score and then after Irwin had taken first on balls and reached third on Farrell's hit and a sacrifice, Mathewson again lost his bearings and sent up a wild pilch. The ball bounded back from the stand and Warner fielded it ruickly to Mathe son, Irwin barely escaping being put out at the plate. In the third inning Sheekard into ver van Haltren's dome of thought for three bases. Day raised a little teasing fly which fell just inside the lett foul line, scored Sheekard and netted its author two bases. Dahlen hammered a hard single to left, scoring Daly, and then Mathewson made his exit.

A good play by Sheekard shut off a batting spell in the fourth inning. Selbach, McBride and Davis made clean singles and the spectators began to whoop it up for the locals. Their ardor was suddenly dampened when Sheckard made a quick and accurate return of Pavis's hit, nipping McBride by a yard at third. Selbach scored on the hit. Hickman and Ganzel could not get the ball out side the diamond and the hitti

The Brooklyns made a fine double play in the fifth. Strang had reached first base by means of a dexterous bunt when Lenzer shot a grounder to Paly. The latter gathered in the ball and tried to touch out Strang on the line. Strang ducked and evaded Daly who then threw to Keiley ahead of Denzer. The neat part of the play was Keiley getting the ball to Dahlen in time to touch out Strang at second. Van Haltren bunted in the eighth inning, took second on Hughes's poor threw and scored when Dahlen followed a brilliant stop of McBride's hit with a wild throw. Ganzel's single, an out and Strang's liner gave the New Yorks their third and last run. The Champions' last run was made by skilful work. Kelley hit to left, turned first base with a rush and taking in the situation at a glance stretched his hit into a double. He skipped home on Keeler's deftly located single, a short fly to right field. The score:

In both cases the officials re-sorted to the "derricking" process. In the 3:14 pace the early pools were: Gunsaulus $100; Palm Leaf, $100; Dr. Book, $76, and the $100; Palm Leaf, $100; Dr. Book, $70, and the field, $30. Before post time the weights of money forced Palm Leaf up until he sold even with the field and was heavily backed at those figures. Dr. Book, after winning two heats rather handily, was driven unsatisfactorily in the third heat, in the opinion of the heat was now by Janton. satisfactorily in the third heat, in the opinion of the judges. The heat was won by Janice, after an argument through the stretch with Gunsaulus. The judges substituted Ben Kenney in place of Durfee behind Dr. Book, fining the latter $100. Palm Leaf, which had been laid up by "Knap" McCarthy one heat, fining the latter $100. Paim Leaf, which had been laid up by "Enap" McCarthy one heat, now got into the game, and in a whipping finish through the stretch landed the fourth heat by a short head. The others were now thoroughly "lodged" out, and the remaining two heats were taken handily by former Chief of Police Byrnes's campaigner.

In the 297 pace Rivey B. was picked to win and strongly played before the race at $100 to $80 over the field. Charley Hoyt fook the track at the start, and never being headed, won the heat in 2:00%, the lavorite being two lengths head. The betting now was 7 to 8 against Riley B., but he at once went after the Alientown horse and at the quarter, in 0:0%, he was only a head back. He gradually forged ahead and at the half in 1200%, had secured a lead of one length. The pace killed off the others and he finished an easy winner in 2:00%. After showing that he outdassed his field the betting went back to 8 to 5 against him before the third heat. In this mile he finished a poor fourth in 2:111%. Eyelet winning, with Dariel second. This exhibition was so bad that the judges declared all bets on the heat off and substituted Vance Nuckols for Erwin. With the change Riley B. went on and won the heat and race easily. Dan Patch won his race easily and The King outfooted Iva Dee, his only dangerous compettor, by a small margin each heat.

DRIVER CURRY INJURED.

Thrown From the Sulky and Picked Up ous at Empire City Track.

Jack Curry did some ground and lofty tumbling on the Empire City track yesterday morning, was knocked senseless for a few minutes, and hereafter will be very cautious every time he drives the bay gelding Wainwright. The horse has been showing well in his work ever since he has been in Curry's hands. Yesterday, after working two or three of his string, Curry got up behind Wain-wright. Passing the three-quarter-mile pole at a pretty stiff gait, the horse appeared to stumble, but recovered quickly only to stum-ble again. Curry was almost sure the geld-ing had not hit himself and was trying to figure out the cause of the trouble when again the horse went down, his legs doubling up under him. Curry was pitched into the air and over the animal's head, landing in the middle of the track, where he remained un-conscious for a short time. GOLF.

Philadelphia's First Open Tournament -Stowart Gardner Salls To-day.

As it is to be held the week after the U. S. G. A. amateur championship at the Atlantic City Country Club and the presence of golfers from distant points at a links so near is expected to swell the entry list, the Golf Association of Philadelphia has sent out unusually early the programme for the first open Philadelphia tournament, to be held at the Philadelphia Country Club course, on Sept. 17, 18 and 19. The schedule of play is as follows:

against the new ball is the readiness with which it is deflected by the wind or by any frregularity in the ground. The gain in length seems to be not in carry, but in the superfor realizance after striking the ground. There is certainly room, in our opinion, for a new golf ball, but the majority of players would ronably sprefer to see a cheaper material brought into use rather than a new invention that would tend to increase the distance covered by the long driver."
